

Book1One COVID-19 Update

Monday, April 13, 2020

Due to mandate from the United States Postal Service which states that all printers in its network, of which Book1One is included, are to be considered essential services. Because of this, we are happy to announce that Book1One will be reopening our production facility.

We do understand we are all still in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic so we will be limiting our production staff and implementing both social distancing and additional sanitation measures to ensure the safety of our staff.

Due to these measures, we will not be guaranteeing any specific due dates for orders at this time. We will be doing our very best to meet our standard production schedules, however, we do ask for your understanding as production schedules could be elongated.

We want to thank all of our valuable customers for your continuing support during these challenging times and we hope you and yours are staying safe and healthy.

Please feel free to contact us at HelpDesk@Book1One.com with any questions. We will be happy to provide answers.

Kind regards,

The Book1One Team
